FOREWORD

The BC Labour Directory is an annual publication of the Policy and Legislation Branch of the Ministry of Labour and Consumer Services which compiles information with respect to membership and officials of collective bargaining organizations in the province. The reference date for statistical information is January 1, 1988.

Information for this publication is obtained primarily from Statistics Canada's C.A.L.U.R.A. (Corporations and Labour Unions Returns Act) Survey. Every effort is made to obtain accurate and up-to-date information. The reliability of the information depends mainly on the accuracy of the respondents.

Particular attention is drawn to the union index at the end of the publication. Since some unions have locals with distinct and different names, and some unions are known by short names or initialisms, this index is included to serve as a finding guide to the union listing including full and short forms, initialisms and local names.

We wish to thank all those who cooperated during the gathering of the information that went into the preparation of the BC Labour Directory. In the event that errors or omissions are discovered, it would be appreciated if they were brought to our attention (call 387-1762 in Victoria). The publication was produced by staff members Sharon Churchill and Patrick Stanton.

Union Membership Summary 1988

UNION MEMBERSHIP SUMMARY — 1988

As of January 1, 1988 trade union membership in British Columbia stood at 457,285. This total represents a 1.5% decline from the 1987 figure and reverses the increase experienced in the previous year. The proportion of total paid workers who are trade union members fell to an estimated 37.4%, the lowest proportion since the 1940's as this year's decline in membership occurred at a time of rapid paid workforce increase.

Relatively few changes to union names or organization occurred during 1987–88. These did include the following:

Canadian Actors Equity Association has been added to the Directory as an employee bargaining association.

Pacific Pilotage Employees' Union — Now Local 520 of Longshoreman's Union.

International Typographical Union — Now Communications Workers of America.

In addition it should be noted that the B.C. Teachers' Federation and its various locals around the province have undergone structural changes as a result of passage of Bill 20 — The Teaching Profession Act, and certification of local associations under the Industrial Relations Act.

A total of 25 unions in the province had more than 5,000 members in 1988, up one from the previous year with the addition of V.M.R.E.U. A majority of these unions showed some decline in membership this year. The single largest decline was experienced by the B.C. Teachers' Federation whose membership was reported to have dropped by close to 5,000. However, since a significant increase in membership was reported in 1987 the change this year simply brings the membership figures close to their 1986 levels. In addition to the B.C. Teachers' Federation, unions with a significant membership in the construction field tended to report declines in membership in 1988. These ranged from a 14.1% drop in membership for the Laborers to a 3.6% membership decline for the United Association of Plumbers. Outside of Construction, the United Fishermen & Allied Workers Union reported a 6.0% membership drop as did the Hospital Employees' Union. The Province's largest union, the B.C.G.E.U. retained that position although its overall membership declined by 1.2% compared to 1987.

Increasing membership was recorded in some unions this year. Both the Office and Technical Employees' Union and C.A.I.M.A.W. reported a 7.0% growth in membership, while smaller increases were reported by the Teamsters, C.U.P.E., I.W.A. — Canada, the B.C. Nurses, Steelworkers and the P.P.W.C.

Female trade union membership figures ran counter to the aggregate pattern as they rose 1.4% to total 163,031. Women now represent 35.7% of all unionized workers in the province up from 34.6% during 1987.

Table 4 provides a summary of union membership information estimated by industrial classification. Overall, the numerical and percentage distribution shows only minor variation from 1987 figures. Growth in union membership, however, has been recorded in the Mining and Manufacturing industries which now comprise 1.3% and 19.0% of total union membership. Union membership figures have fallen in Construction, in the Community Services area and in Public Administration. Despite some decline in membership during the latest year these three sectors still engage over one-half of all union members in British Columbia.

Union Headquarters and Locals

UNION HEADQUARTERS AND LOCALS

This section contains membership and officer information for both headquarters and locals of unions in British Columbia. Entries are arranged in alphabetical order according to the short name of the labour organizations although no official recognition of such abbreviated titles is intended. In those instances where a union's short name is derived from the initials of its full name, alphabetical listing is usually based on the first word in the full name. (For example CUPE comes under "Canadian Union" rather than under "CU").

Beneath the short and full title listing of each union is its affiliation, if any, to international and/or national congresses or federations. Abbreviations used are:

AFL-CIO	—American Federation of Labor —Congress of Industrial Organizations
CLC	—Canadian Labour Congress
CFL	—Canadian Federation of Labour
BC FED	—British Columbia Federation of Labour
CCU	—Confederation of Canadian Unions
AFL-CIO/CLC	—affiliated with both bodies
